Nel Noddings is closely identified with the promotion of the ethics of care, – the argument that caring should be a foundation for ethical decision-making. Her first major work Caring (1984) explored what she described as a ‘feminine approach to ethics and moral education’. In later editions, Noddings uses "relational’ – ‘the connotations of “feminine” are off-putting and do not capture what I intended to convey’ (Noddings 2013: 9).

Nel Noddings, the ethics of care and education – infed.org:

Caring: A Feminine Approach to Ethics and Moral Education The key to understanding Noddings' ethics of care is to understand her notion of caring and ethical caring in particular. Noddings believes that it would be a mistake to try to provide a systematic examination of the requirements for caring; nevertheless, she does suggest three requirements for caring ( Caring 1984, 11-12).
