Conspicuous Consumption Thorstein Veblen

Thorstein Bunde Veblen (July 30, 1857 – August 3, 1929) was an American economist and sociologist of Norwegian origins and head of the Efficiency Movement, most famous for his Theory of the Leisure Class (1899). In this work he introduced the theory of conspicuous consumption. Thorstein Veblen believed that all social institutions are important to study for understanding the economic issues as the economy could not be isolated from the other institutions.

Thorstein Veblen – Conspicuous Consumption

Conspicuous consumption is the spending of money on and the acquiring of luxury goods and services to publicly display economic power of the income or of the accumulated wealth of the buyer. To the conspicuous consumer, such a public display of discretionary economic power is a means of either attaining or maintaining a given social status. The development of Thorstein Veblen's sociology of conspicuous consumption produced the term invidious consumption, the ostentatious consumption of goods tha
