The Custom II has a 'C'-shape as well as there being a genuine flamingo to the single piece of neck maple. There's no vintage hue to the neck, which consequently allows the natural honey colour to be attractively evident. It plays superbly and has been set-up to perfection: Squier has even used the original curly font for the 'Custom' logo.

Squier Telecaster Custom II review | MusicRadar
Squier Telecaster Custom II P90 Pickups Vintage Blonde One of Fender's best Squier models in my opinion. A handsome looking telecaster with two Duncan designed P90 pick ups that give a 'fatter' sound than standard telecasters. A three position switch and individual volume and tone controls make this an extremely versatile guitar.
