Direct 2nd year in NTU EEE here. Currently in 2nd sem, was from SP EEE. My experience so far, it is tough and very busy. There is a prep course for Physics A which I recommend going. The Maths prep course hmm.. didn't apply too much to sem 1 maths A but worth going to refresh your memory. Okay, maths in sem 1 isn't so bad but physics that is a struggle for most poly students, you will be ...

EAlphones@ntu.edu.sg Multi band filters/ Leaky wave phenomenon from the composite right/left handed transmission lines (CRLH TLs) is a very interesting and promising topic in recent times. The most important advantage for the CRLH TLs is that they can be used to design leaky wave antennas which can radiate backward in the left-handed (LH) mode and forward in the right-handed mode.
